Communist China Has Exploded Its First Atom Bomb

Laneburg Juniors to Stage Play

The Junior class of Laneburg High School will stage a three act comedy Friday, Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. The name of the play, "The Sky's the Limit." Robert L. Toney is sponsor and admission is 25 and 50 cents.

Will Take China 10 Years to Build 30 Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. experts estimate it will take from four to 10 years for Red China to build as many as 30 atomic bombs.

Even then, these experts said today, the Red Chinese nuclear weapons "will not be very big" — not hydrogen bombs like this country's thermonuclear weapons capable of unleashing the explosive power of up to 24 million tons of TNT.

In numbers, the United States, according to official statements, has "tens of thousands" of nuclear weapons as well as versatile means for their delivery.

A country cannot be considered a nuclear power until it has the capacity to deliver its atomic weapons at enemy targets.

China today has no significant rocket capacity and only a limited number of aging and relatively short range bombers.

U.S. experts said that within the next 10 years with Red Chinese should be able to mount a force of missiles with ranges of several hundred miles.

This would put Japan, Formosa, Southeast Asia, India and Russia — in range.

British Labor Party Unseats Conservatives

LONDON (AP) — Harold Wilson and the Labor party edged toward victory in Britain's national elections today but by a margin so slender that political uncertainty threatened.

Returns from 430 of the 630 House of Commons districts gave: Conservative party 181 seats, a loss of 45.

Others none, a loss of one. Despite the Laborite gains, Conservative headquarters refused to concede. Results from Tory strongholds later today were certain to cut into the Laborite margin.

Computers and political experts, however, forecast the final result would show a thin Labor margin over the Conservatives of 17 seats in the House of Commons. That would be enough to make Wilson Britain's first Labor prime minister in 13 years. But it would be a far cry from the commanding majority of more than 90 seats the Conservatives had in the last Parliament.

If Labor's margin falls below 17 seats, the party would find it difficult to govern effectively. Every major government decision is subject to House of Commons vote, and defeat means automatic resignation and new elections.

A rash of Labor absentees could be fatal. Parliament would face a prolonged bout of bitter infighting just as Britain is running into grave financial problems. Ahead, too, lies a period of international uncertainty following the shakeup in the Kremlin Thursday.

Prime Minister Douglas Home, 61, the aristocrat who led the Tories into electoral victory for the first time, spent the night tightlipped inside No. 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's official residence.

Wilson, pipe-smoking economist and former Oxford University lecturer, called the result "moderately encouraging." He more than they care what's inside them. So bring her home many inexpensive presents each year, but only one that really strains your pocketbook.

The big one is for her to show to her friends, the others just for her to know that you thought of her often.

Even though her own cooking tastes like it had been prepared by someone wearing boxing gloves, whenever you take her out to a restaurant be sure to complain about the food — and tell her how much better it is at home.

Never admit to her how much fun you have at the office. Tell her it's awful there. A husband enjoys his work too much; she doesn't mind if he suffers at it — for her sake.

Always listen to your wife. Wives don't mind so much if you don't obey their orders, but they can't stand it not to be at least heard.

Rarely, if ever, argue with her. It will only mean you will have to listen longer. And never strike her, at least before witnesses. The best way to chastise a woman is by silence. She is punished more by your disapproval than by your anger.

Give up your bad habits slowly. If she makes you perfect too soon, she will become bored with her victory.

Those are time-tested rules for marital success, my boy, if you follow them and fail to reach your golden wedding anniversary together — well, maybe you picked the wrong girl.

Perhaps she'd rather be married to a mouse than a man.

THAT'S NO WAY TO ACT — Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential candidate, leans over to pat Duchess, a bulldog, after making a campaign speech at the Library Memorial in Kansas City, Mo. Duchess, who had Goldwater written on her side, responded by sticking her tongue out at Goldwater. Duchess' owner is Mrs. J. H. Whitner, left.

MISSED BY INCH — With knife handle protruding from her back, 24 year old Jill Nietert talks to an ambulance attendant as she is rushed to a hospital in Brooklyn, N.Y. She was stabbed while walking through a subway underpass. As she fell, her assailant grabbed her purse and ran. Doctors who removed the six inch blade said it missed her aorta by one inch and nicked her lung. She is in critical condition.

Johnson Praises Work of His Aide Jenkins, Claims No Knowledge of His Conduct

ARRESTED — Walter Jenkins, special assistant to President Johnson, resigned after it was disclosed that he had been arrested on a morals charge in Washington. Jenkins has been admitted to a Washington hospital because of "nervous exhaustion and high blood pressure."

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he had no information on Walter W. Jenkins that would have led him to question the personal conduct of his top aide before Jenkins' two arrests on morals charges became public.

But the President said in a statement Thursday night, once he was told Wednesday of the arrests — one of them in 1959 and the other last week — he asked Jenkins to resign. Jenkins promptly did so.

as on any such case, the public interest comes before all personal feeling.

The President said: "Within moments after being notified last night, I ordered Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI to make an immediate and comprehensive inquiry and report promptly to me and the American people."

Today the Washington Post reported it had learned the police forwarded data on Jenkins' 1959 arrest to the FBI that year and that in April 1961 this data, including a copy of his fingerprints record, was forwarded to the Secret Service, which had requested the information.

What the Secret Service did with the data is shrouded in secrecy, the Post said. Neither the FBI nor the Secret Service would comment immediately.

At the time Johnson was vice president and Jenkins was his administrative assistant.

Johnson's statement, heavy with compassion for 46-year-old Jenkins, his wife and six children, one of whom was named "Lyndon" after the President, was distributed to newsmen when they returned with the President from his New York campaign trip.

In effect, it was a reply to Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who earlier in the day had accused the President of covering up for Jenkins after the first arrest.

And it followed by several hours a sympathetic statement by Mrs. Johnson, who described Jenkins as a man who "reached the end point of exhaustion in dedicated service to his country." She said the Johnsons were praying for his recovery.

New Russian Leaders Seek to Reassure the People About Future

Nikita's End Surprise, U.S. to Wait, See

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin said at the White House today that the new Soviet government intends to maintain the established policy of "peaceful coexistence" and work for a further relaxation of tensions in the world.

Dobrynin is understood to have given that message to President Johnson in a conference of about half an hour in the President's office.

Afterward, Johnson escorted the diplomat to a driveway where microphones and cameras were set up.

The relationship between the two men, following the sudden government upheaval in Moscow, was obviously cordial.

Dobrynin told reporters he could not tell them what he had said to Johnson but he could tell them about the position of his government.

"The foreign policy of the Soviet Union which was set by the party congresses, the 20th, 21st and 22nd party congresses, is going to be unchanged," he declared. "The foundation of our policy is the strengthening of peaceful coexistence among countries with different social systems and a further relaxation of tension."

Dobrynin had asked for the meeting on instructions from Moscow to give a message of reassurance to the President to the effect that the sudden change in the Kremlin did not mean a sudden change in U.S.-Soviet relations, diplomatic officials said.

Johnson met with Dobrynin after a session with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Ambassador at Large Llewellyn Thompson special assistant McGeorge Bundy and other foreign policy aides.

Before Dobrynin's comment, diplomatic officials here said they expected the new Kremlin regime I Leonid I. Brezhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin to offer assurances to the Western powers generally that there would be no change in basic Soviet foreign policy of peaceful coexistence, as developed by Khrushchev.

Policy on West and Red China Still Unknown

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

MOSCOW (AP) — With Nikita Khrushchev toppled from power and pushed into obscurity, the new leaders of the Soviet Union sought today to reassure the people that de-Stalinization and economic improvements will continue.

This was the first policy indication given by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the beely, brooding protégé of Khrushchev who emerged from a secret Communist party meeting as the party's first secretary — the top job here. It was contained in statement in the party paper Pravda.

Alexei N. Kosygin, a weary looking administrator, became premier in changes announced early today.

A number of Khrushchev aides were reported by reliable informants to have lost their jobs also. Most prominently named in these unconfirmed reports was his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the government paper Izvestia.

Pavel Satukov, editor of Pravda, also was reported to have quit.

The mystery long associated with the Red brick walls of the Kremlin was wrapped about the Khrushchev departure. There was no explanation for the 27 million Russian people of what had become of the man who led them for almost a decade, or why he had been dropped by the wayside.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper, Pravda, published a front-page statement that the party "firmly and consistently carries into life the Leninist general line worked out at the 20th and 22nd congresses of the party."

Khrushchev delivered his famous speech against Stalinism at the 20th congress in 1956. The 22nd Congress five years later set long-term goals of improved economic conditions and the attainment of communism. Any attempt to drop these policies would probably meet strong popular resistance, many diplomats in Moscow believe.

The rest of the world waited to find out how the changeover would affect the Soviet Union's foreign policy.

There was general belief that Continued on Page Three

36 Buy 2 Poll Taxes in Perry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Chief Deputy Pros. Atty. Rodney Parham said Thursday 36 persons in Perry County had obtained two poll tax receipts.

Parham said the action is not illegal, so long as each holder of two receipts votes only one time per election.

The duplications were revealed, Parham said, during a check to determine why Perry County had issued 3,187 receipts — 213 more than the number of residents of voting age in the county in the 1960 census.

Parham said he made the check for Pros. Atty. John Jernigan, who was ill.

Parham had said earlier he would not look into the matter because Sheriff Grover Tolley had explained to him the increase in the receipts issued could be accounted for by increased population in the county. He also said some persons had not been counted during the 1960 census.

All Around Town

Last Sunday in Texarkana Jane Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Collins of Spring Hill, received first place for hair styling in competition among the hairdressers from throughout Unit 60 in Southwest Arkansas.

...she is a student at Duke's Beauty School in Texarkana. Taking third place in the competition, was Charles "Chuck" Ross, whose grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Ross, 1514 South Pine. The winners were seen by many on KCMCTV earlier this week.

Yard of the Month winners for October have been announced by the Hope Council of Garden Clubs. They are: Ward 1, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, 419 Spruce; Ward 1-A, Mrs. J. W. Winemiller, 907 East 2nd; Ward 2, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Trout, 513 Peach; Ward 3, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Glanton, 117 West Avenue C; Ward 4, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Montgomery, Proving Ground Road.

Across from the ruins of the Barlow Hotel and adjoining businesses, the buildings are taking on an attractive appearance with new fronts. Hazel and Virginia's Beauty Shop also had a complete remodeling job inside and is now open for business. A formal opening will be announced in the near future.

Jack Willett, who taught Vocational Agriculture at Blevins High School last year, has been associated with the Agricultural Chemical Division of Swift and Co. and is now located in East St. Louis, Ill., for training in territorial management. He joined the company in July.

Several Hope fans will make the long trek to Austin, Texas this weekend to see the Razorbacks and Longhorns tie up in a battle that could well decide the conference championship.

Arkansas fans should not look for any "breaks" in this game, because the Porks will get none. In the last two games that Arkansas has played, Austin, both were real close. Texas didn't receive a penalty in either contest while the Porks were penalized liberally. And fans who saw those games will never forget that time when the Porks recovered a Texas fumble a yard from the goal line only to have the referee rule Ford had crossed it before the fumble occurred. It was the game winning touchdown. nor will they forget the time that Danny Bradham crossed the goal line with a game winning touchdown only to fumble and Texas recovered on the one yard line. the referee ruled he fumbled before going over and Arkansas lost the game. nor will Hog fans forget the time Arkansas intercepted a Texas pass to stop a Texas drive, only to have it ruled caught out of bounds. Texas went on to win with that drive. so fans, don't expect any breaks at Austin. If Arkansas wins it will have to be clear cut with no close decisions.

US officials are watching for developments in Soviet-Red Chinese relations, wondering whether, in view of the progressive breakup of the Communist bloc, Brezhnev and Kossygin will launch some new attempt to reach an understanding with Red China and restore some unity among the Red nations.

The future of U.S.-Soviet relations was thrown into a state of uncertainty by the shifts in Soviet leadership and President Johnson said the Kremlin development may or may not be a sign of deeper turmoil and changes to come.

But, the President said Thursday night in a New York speech, turmoil around the world would only increase the steadfastness of the American people.

"We do not want to bury anyone anywhere and we do not intend to be buried ourselves," he said. "We will be firm, but we will be restrained. We can meet any test but our quest is always for peace. We must keep our eyes on the stars, but our feet, both of them, on the ground."

Johnson's running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, told newsmen he did not think the Kremlin leadership change would bring any quick summit meeting with Johnson.

Humphrey expressed the view that it's up to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other diplomats to sound out the new policies in the Kremlin — if there are any. U.S. officials, taken by surprise, said it was impossible to predict.

Whether Khrushchev's successors would follow his peaceful coexistence policy in dealing with the Western Allies.

How the successors would handle Moscow's angry dispute with Red China.

"These officials adopted a wait and see attitude."

Authorities here expressed the belief that Khrushchev was forced out of his positions as Soviet premier and boss of the Soviet Communist party in a dispute over major issues of policy. So far as they could judge there was no evidence that peaceful coexistence was directly involved. Soviet-Chinese relations may have been.

One probable key issue in the action of the Communist party's central committee in "releasing" Khrushchev from his duties was believed here to be the Soviet Union's progressive loss of influence over the Communist countries of Eastern Europe and the Communist parties of Western Europe. This decline in Moscow leadership has developed parallel with the Soviet-Chinese split which apparently has contributed extensively to the loosening of Moscow controls in other countries and parties.

The two men who have divided Khrushchev's power between them, Premier Alexei N. Kossygin and Leonid I. Brezhnev, Communist party first secretary, are personally known to some U.S. diplomats and top officials, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Officials said the U.S. government received the news of the Moscow upheaval with calmness even though it had not been anticipated. The State Department was reported to have completed an assessment of the Soviet power structure a few days ago with the estimate that Khrushchev was firmly in control.

Miss Ann Ahern, President of the Arkansas Federation of Music Clubs. It was held at the Northridge Country Club, and on a program of songs by Arkansas composers, Mrs. Hays sang a group of songs by Lillian Routon, accompanied by Mrs. Hyatt.

Mrs. Henry Ballard of Texarkana spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. Cora Hutchens. Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Dishon of Gravelly, Ark., who lived with Mrs. Hutchens at one time, also visited her Thursday.

Mrs. O. G. Wren of Little Rock and Mrs. Don Mulligan of Santa Ana, Calif., are here to see their sister, Mrs. Graydon Anthony, Mr. Anthony and other relatives. Also, her brother, Charles Mann.

"DEAR ABBY"

SHY BUT NOT SHIFTY!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I am not the kind of girl who goes against her parents wishes, but in this case I think I have a right to. I am 16 and this boy I like a lot is 17. He has come over to my house a couple of times, and the very first time my father laid eyes on Jeff, he took a dislike to him, and here is the reason: Jeff is a shy boy and he doesn't look at you when you talk to him. I understand this and it doesn't bother me, but my father says there is something wrong with a person who can't look you in the eye. It is a sign that he is dishonest. This is not true. Jeff is a swell kid. He's an honor student, very polite and has never been in any trouble. Can you help me, Abby?

Dear Abby: What your father says is generally true—but not always. Many a cheat can out-stare an honest person any day of the week if there is something to be gained by it. Ask your father to get to know Jeff better and then make his judgments. You can't always believe your eyes.

Dear Abby: A friend of mine wants to know why her husband always comes home drunk. Her husband wants to know why his wife doesn't clean her house. Maybe if each one knew what was bugging the other, their problem would be solved. They both read your column. Can you help them?

FRIEND TO BOTH
Dear Friend: It's a good bet that the husband has complained to his wife about her sloppy housekeeping long before he complained to his friends. And the same goes for her and her husband's drinking. It's an oversimplification to say that maybe if she swept up, he'd sober up.

Dear Abby: I have just received an invitation that knocked me for a loop. I've had lots of invitations to different things in my life, but I have never had an invitation to a baby shower for an unwed mother before.

The mother of this girl is a good friend of mine and when asked her why she would permit such a shower under the circumstances, she said she didn't see anything wrong with it. She said her daughter was a good girl who had made a mistake. The daughter plans to keep the baby, so why not have a shower? Have you ever had any inquiries about showers for unwed mothers? Is it proper, and should I go?

UNDECIDED
Dear Undecided: Those who attend such a shower indicate by their presence that they see nothing wrong with it. Since you were obviously shocked at the invitation, you would be a hypocrite to go.

Policy on West

Khrushchev's departure would open the way to at least a measure of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China. For the past year Peking has hammered at the theme that Khrushchev stood as a personal obstacle to a rapprochement between the rival Communist giants. Red China's boss, Mao Tse-tung and his top aides made clear that peace was out of the question as long as Khrushchev spoke for Soviet communism.

But any reconciliation with Peking could also require a common policy toward the West. This would probably mean an end to Khrushchev's era of peaceful coexistence, not necessarily leading to armed confrontation but at least increasing tensions and military budgets.

Political experts in Vienna National Security Council meetings and had access to any information the President had.

Russia helped China in early stages of its nuclear planning. Today's announcement did not say whether China's test was held in the atmosphere or underground.

Red China is not a signer of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, which bars nuclear testing in all areas except below the surface of the earth.

Cardinals Win First Pennant Since 1946

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The New York Yankees hit most of the home runs. The St. Louis Cardinals got most of the timely hits. The Yankees made mistakes. The Cardinals took advantage of the breaks.

The American League champions lost their pitching ace, Whitey Ford, after the first game, with an arm injury that was kept secret until the final game. The Cardinals' pitching ace, Bob Gibson, performed brilliantly in an iron-man role.

This is why the Cardinals maintained their unblemished record of never having lost a full-length World Series. It was their fifth such series victory, their seventh in 10 post-season classics and their third in five head-to-head meetings with the Yankees.

And how the victorious Cardinals and the near-capacity crowd of 10,346 at Busch Stadium whooped it up after Gibson had ended the game by disposing of Bobby Richardson on a soft pop to second baseman Dal Maxvill.

Trumpets blared, horns tooted, partisan St. Louis rooters shouted themselves hoarse and hundreds poured out on the field as the deliciously happy white-uniformed players jumped all over each other.

The players embraced Gibson, who had literally pitched his arm off with only two days rest. They hugged Manager Johnny Keane, who finally had a world championship after 27 years of managing. They hugged Ken Boyer, whose big bat had been instrumental in all three run-scoring innings. They hugged Maxvill, the utility infielder who had done such a fine job filling in for the ailing Julian Javier.

They hugged catcher Timmy McCarver, the Cards' most consistent and outstanding hitter in the series. They hugged Butch Yankman, the little clubhouse man, who has been with the club longer than anybody else. They hugged each other.

It was the biggest day the city of St. Louis has enjoyed since they lost won a pennant and a World Series in 1946.

All six previous games were wrapped up in Thursday's finale. As before, the Yankees hit more homers, made more errors, while the Cards got the timely hits and took advantage of the enemy's lapses.

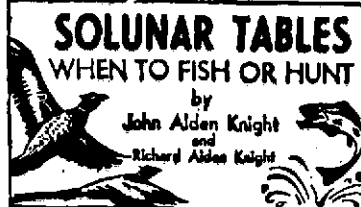

The Yankees slammed three home runs, by Mickey Mantle, Cleto Boyer and Phil Linz. But they committed two errors and were guilty of other loose play which does not show in the box score.

The Cardinals, on the other hand, hit two home runs — by Lou Brock and Ken Boyer — but erred only once and played daringly, aggressively and smartly. They out-hit the Yankees by only 10 to nine, but turned seven of their hits into runs.

On the other hand, the Yankees failed to score in the first five innings although they had five base-runners against Gibson. They failed to take advantage of an error by shortstop Dick Groat that filled the bases in the second.

Mel Stottlemyre, the young rookie right-hander, also working with just two days rest, kept pace with Gibson for three innings. In the fourth, however, he was betrayed by a teammate and the Cardinals quickly took advantage to pile up a 3-0 lead.

There were runners on first and second with nobody out when McCarver hit a potential double-play grounder to Joe Pepitone. The first baseman's throw to Linz forced Groat but the shortstop's relay sailed past.

Keane With Cardinals for 35 Years

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Johnny Keane's cup bubbled over with cheer. After 35 years in the St. Louis Cardinal organization, most of them in the minor leagues, he was on top of the heap, manager of the world champions.

As recently as Aug. 23, Keane and his Cardinals were struggling along in fourth place, 11 full games behind the Phillies who were ready to print World Series tickets.

It was not until the final day of the season that his Cardinals climaxed their charge by winning the National League pennant. At once, they were established underdogs to the mighty New York Yankees.

"I waited 35 years for this," Keane said quietly in the midst of unrestrained joy in the Cardinal clubhouse after their 7-5 seventh-game victory. Champagne dripped from his greying head and streaked his haggard, deeply lined face. "That's a long wait but it's worth it."

This was the end of a thrilling suspense story. In mid-August, Gussie Busch fired his general manager Bing Devine, because he was not satisfied with the ball club. It went without saying that Keane, a Devine man, would be lucky to finish the season.

When the Cards spurred, reports that Leo Durocher would manage the club next year began to spread. No new contract was offered Keane until the final week of the season. When the offer came, John calmly said, "Let's wait until after the season." When he won the World Series his future still was unsettled.

On July 6, 1961, Keane took over from Solly Hemus as manager of a sixth-place club.

The Cards finished fifth in 1961, sixth in 1962 and second last year after making a big September run. Now he finally has gone all the way.

"Those boys out there did it," Keane told newsmen as he relaxed in his tiny office and tugged on one of those small cigars.

"They're the greatest bunch I've ever managed. They're a treat to watch. I'd pay to see them any day."

Terrible Tempered in His Old Form

DETROIT (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs hit the target Thursday night in their first shot for another Stanley Cup title and Detroit's one-time "terrible-tempered" Ted Lindsay is in old form.

Toronto, defending cup champions, walloped the Detroit Red Wings 5-3 despite Lindsay, who quit four years of retirement to return to the ice.

Lindsay drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty and a $25 fine for calling referee Vern Buefy a name.

Pepitone and Boyer scored on the error.

Mike Shannon followed with a single and there were runners on first and third with one out.

Then came the play that proved to be the turning point of the game. With Maxvill at bat, the Cards successfully pulled off a double steal, McCarver scoring. A pair of errant throws by catcher Elston Howard and second baseman Richardson made the daring play work. It also put Shannon in position to score the third run on a single by Maxvill.

"I didn't see McCarver break for the plate," Richardson later explained. "If I'd seen him, I would have moved in 10 feet in front of the bag and McCarver would have been out by 10 feet."

Oddly enough, as Manager Keane disclosed later, a double steal had not been intended.

"It started out as a hit-and-run and ended in a double steal," said Keane.

In the seven games, the Yankees outscored the Cardinals, 10 to five but also outscored them, nine to three. In addition, they had several other mental lapses such as Mantle being caught off base, Mickey also thrown out trying to stretch a base hit, and Ford cut down by yards at the plate.

Homecoming Tonight for the Bobcats

It's Homecoming tonight for the Hope Bobcats when they entertain the ever-dangerous Cardinals from Fairview at Hammons Stadium at 7:30 o'clock.

But it's a little more than that for the Bobcats who are currently tied with Warren for the lead in district competition. They almost have to win to keep in the running.

While Hope takes on Fairview the Warren team will have its hands full tonight at Malvern. But Hope, although doped to win, could have its hands full, too. The Cardinals have good size and though they haven't been very impressive this year the potential is there and if it jells the Bobcats are in for rough night.

Homecoming activities get underway at 7:05 with Miss Cissie Ellis being crowned queen of festivities. A downtown parade is planned for early Friday afternoon.

In a contest last night at Hammons Stadium the Hope and Nashville Junior team played to 12-all tie.

Hog, Longhorn Contest Tops in the Nation

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
Arkansas has readied a hostile Marshall Plan for Texas and Phil Harris, a leader of the nation's top-ranked football band.

Southwest Conference supremacy and the Longhorns' 13-game winning streak are among the stakes in the collision of unbeaten at Austin, Tex., Saturday night.

If the eighth-rated Razorbacks' hopes for a major upset are to be realized, quarterback Freddie Marshall is the key. Texas wingback Harris makes the Longhorn power sweeps go with his blocking but also is a ball carrier with a 5.4-yard average, the team's leading receiver and the deep man on kicks.

Coaches Darrell Royal of the Steers and Frank Broyles of the Forkers, longtime friends, have concocted special defenses for the other's ace.

Amid a heavy concentration on conference action this weekend, Ohio State's No. 2 Buckeyes play host to Southern California in the nationally televised headliner. And UCLA, still reeling from the tumping administered by Syracuse, tackles fourth-ranked Notre Dame.

Florida State, 10th in the latest poll and owner of the stingiest major college defense against scoring — 1.5 points per game — meets Georgia of the Southeastern Conference. The Seminoles stunned Kentucky 48-6 a week ago.

Ohio State is eager to avenge a 32-3 loss to USC a year ago which knocked the Bucks from the unbeaten ranks they now occupy again and spelled the worst beating in the 14 years of Woody Hayes' direction.

In the SEC, third-ranked Alabama invades always-tough Tennessee without star quarterback Joe Namath, who received a twisted knee against North Carolina State.

Louisiana State, just beginning to find the end zone with its new flanker offense, goes against a Kentucky team out to prove it can bounce back from the Tallahassee murder. The Wildcats are 2-0 in the circuit along with Florida compared to Bama's 3-0.

Florida has a non-conference date with South Carolina.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Young Dick Sikes was at the top of the pack today in the $70,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament after setting a course record at the Paradise Valley Country Club.

He shot a nine-under-par 62 Thursday, two strokes under the record set last year by Bob Harrison, in the opening round. The course measures 7,069 yards with a par 36-35-71.

As the second round began, Jack Rule and Tommy Aaron were three strokes back of Sikes, and the pre-tournament co-favorite, Arnold Palmer, was tied at 67 with George Bayer and Tommy Jacobs.

Gibson Is Hero of the World Series

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Right-hander Bob Gibson is a former pro basketball Harlem Globetrotter who's still a cut-up. He's seldom serious — always ready with a quip.

"I hope you have a bad day," he grinned at Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre, when photographers asked them to pose before Thursday's World Series game.

But when the teams took the field, it was a different Gibson — a serious, intense tall man with a job to do.

future?" mused Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane, whose job had been reported in jeopardy toward the end of the Cards' surprising season. "Right now, I just want to keep my future limited this afternoon to the sight of my ball players enjoying all this."

Yankee Manager Yogi Berra praised Cardinal right-hander Bob Gibson, whose nine strikeouts gave him 31 for a Series record.

"Gibson surprised us with his stamina," Yogi said. "He had that good fast ball."

"They're a fine ball club," added Mickey Mantle, whose three-run homer in the sixth cut the Cards' lead to 6-3.

"Gibson pitched his heart out for us," said Keane, the 53-year-old Cardinal skipper whose greying hair streamed with champagne.

"He got us a real good start and that's why I left him in — when I saw how strong he was going and how courageously he was throwing."

Gibson, who was named the Series' most outstanding player because of his 2-1 record, said: "It's nice to know I set a World Series strikeout record, but I'd rather have the money."

Perspiration poured from his face, as it did most of the Cardinals' in their steamy dressing room after the 7-5 victory.

"I thought my stuff was faster at the end than it was at the start," Gibson said. "The pitches the Yanks hit for homers in the ninth inning were good fast balls."

The Cards had a 7-3 lead with one out in the ninth.

Then Cleto Boyer hammered a fast ball into the left field bleachers. Gibson fanned pinch-hitter John Blanchard — to expand on a Series strikeout record that had stood for 61 years — but Phil Linz, usually a light hitter, smashed another fast ball to left for the inning's second homer.

Johnny Keane Quits as Card Manager

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Johnny Keane, manager of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals has submitted his resignation in a letter to owner August A. Busch Jr. dated Sept. 28 — a week before the regular season ended.

Keane wrote that his resignation should be effective at the end of the last championship National League game, whether it be the end of the regular season or the completion of the World Series.

The resignation was accepted by Busch, who had offered Keane a substantial raise over his salary of this year.

Keane denied reports that he would take the managerial job at Pittsburgh, vacated by Danny Murtaugh. There also has been some talk that Keane could wind up in New York as a coach and heir apparent to Mets Manager Casey Stengel.

The fireballing right-hander kept the New Yorkers swinging wildly for five innings while his teammates built up a 6-0 lead. And Gibson, who went 10 tough innings Monday in a 5-2 Cardinal victory at New York, held on for the 7-5 edge Thursday that made the Redbirds world champions.

Gibson set the World Series strikeout record by fanning nine Yankees for a total of 31 in the Series, breaking the mark of 28 set by W. H. Dinneen in 1903. He won the last two games for the Cardinals in the Series and was named the outstanding player in the Series, which won him a 1965 auto.

But afterward, Gibson was his usual self.

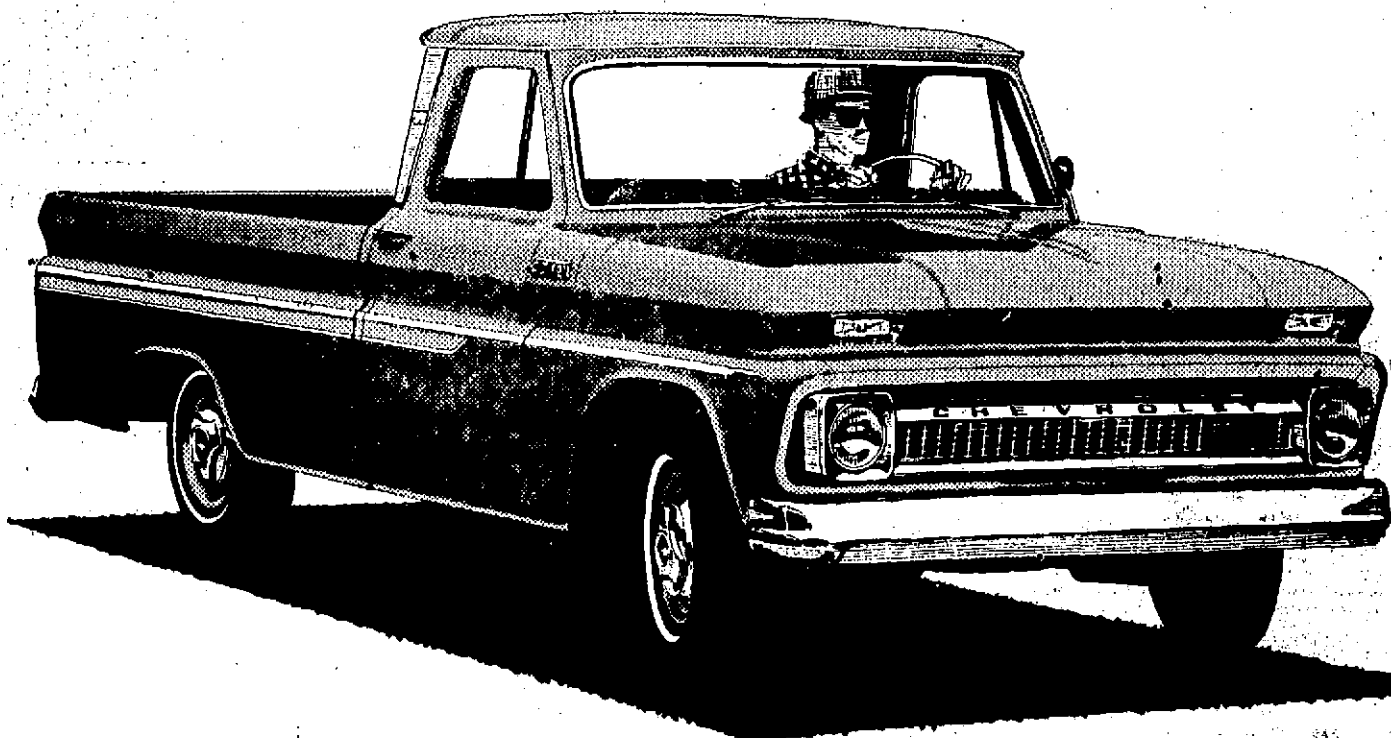

"It's nice to know I set a World Series strikeout record," he told reporters, "but I'd rather have the money."

He had a bottle of champagne in his hand and grinned between gulps.

He "threw his heart out for us," Manager Johnny Keane said.

With a 7-3 lead in the ninth, Cleto Boyer and Phil Linz hit solo homers to close the gap, but Gibson got Bobby Richardson on a pop to end the game and the Series.

Political Candidates

The Star is authorized to announce that the following are candidates for public office subject to action of the General Election on November 3.

For Coroner DR. C. LYNN HARRIS JOHN T. HONEYCUTT

For Tax Assessor DORA GUNTER KING CARTER SUTTON

Whoever stole that money is a slick customer who had plenty of time to sink it out of sight - and by that I mean maybe bury it in the woods or somewhere among those miles of beaches. It would be easier going after that old needle in the haystack. They were well on their way before Lew reverted to that point. "Two hours and 10 minutes in all. That money went out of here between 3:30, when you dropped off to sleep, and 5:45, when the phone woke you up. And we don't know for sure where anybody else was during that time."

Craig had been submerged in dreamless, unbroken, slumber. No noise had disturbed him; he had been totally unaware of the interloper.

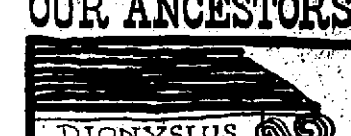

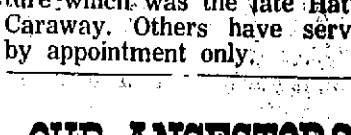

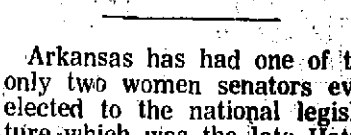

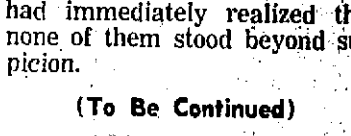

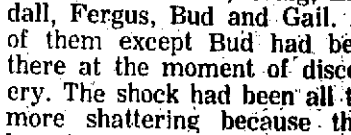

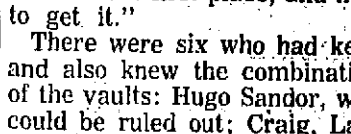

"Somebody who had a door key and the combination, both." Craig had argued that they couldn't argue the possibility of an outsider, but Lew had replied, "Granted, but it had to be somebody who knew the money was there in the first place, and how to get it."

There were six who had keys and also knew the combination of the vaults: Hugo Sander, who could be ruled out; Craig, Landall, Fergus, Bud and Gail. All of them except Bud had been there at the moment of discovery. The shock had been all the more shattering because they had immediately realized that none of them stood beyond suspicion.

(To Be Continued)

Arkansas has had one of the only two women senators ever elected to the national legislature, which was the late Hattie Caraway. Others have served by appointment only.

Firing Squad Executes Viet Nam Terrorist

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A firing squad Thursday executed Nguyen Van Troi, 19, a Viet Cong terrorist who sought to blow up U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara last spring. Troi went to his death at the stake in a prison soccer field, shouting defiance. "Long live Ho Chi Minh!" he screamed in salute to Communist North Viet Nam's president. "Americans get out of Viet Nam!"

In the political field, sources possibility of death sentences loomed before 13 military officers and seven civilians called to trial on a charge of treason in the abortive coup Sept. 13.

Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, a former interior minister who is one of the chief defendants, testified U.S. Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson told him 10 hours after the rebel troops occupied Saigon: "Do anything you want, but avoid bloodshed."

In the political field, sources close to the 17-man High National Council said it has decided to junk plans for a general election to choose a new Congress and instead will appoint the congressmen. The reported reason was a danger that the Communists, who control much of the countryside, could score a moral victory through demonstrations and casting of blank ballots even though they listed no candidates.

From Foreign Ministry sources came word that Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, absentee member of the ruling military triumvirate, will be South Viet Nam's new ambassador to Washington.

A controversial figure assigned to a diplomatic tour abroad, Khiem is believed to be in Hong Kong. The Washington Embassy has been run by a charge d'affaires since Ambassador Do Vang Lyw has been dismissed following the 1963 coup that toppled the Ngo Dinh Diem regime.

Johnson, RFK in Mutual Admiration

By FRANK CORMIER

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson and Robert F. Kennedy campaigned side-by-side in New York State Thursday, proclaiming a mutual admiration society.

Johnson, who was hoarse of throat and sometimes listless in manner Wednesday, seemed to regain much of his ebullience as he stumped the Empire State with his former attorney general.

The Democratic President said nothing, and his demeanor revealed nothing, about his reaction to the resignation Wednesday night of his old friend and key aid, Walter W. Jenkins, who had been arrested in Washington on a morals charge.

In stops at Rochester and Buffalo, Johnson flashed a broad grin and repeatedly waded into crowds with both hands outstretched.

During a Buffalo motorcade, he stopped his automobile several times to get out and greet curbside crowds with Kennedy, who seeks the U.S. Senate seat of Republican Kenneth B. Keating.

Police estimated that 25,000 to 30,000 greeted the Democratic candidates at the Rochester Airport and that 30,000 met them in front of the Buffalo City Hall. Thousands of others lined SIGNAL SERVICE FOR BIBLE WEEK—At Cape May, N.J., sailors from the U.S. Coast Guard Honor Guard prepare for the 24th annual observance of National Bible Week by spelling out Bible Week with naval signal flags. The week, sponsored by The Layman's National Committee, Inc., runs October 19-25.

SEES BIBLE AS DAILY GUIDE

As the recently elected President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. William H. Hasebroock says of the forthcoming 24th observance of National Bible Week, October 19th through 25th: "This is a day and age of wonders, yet fears beset us on all sides. We need to create public opinion by speaking, writing, or whatever medium is possible, in calling attention to the fact that Bible reading must begin in the home. We know that public opinion ultimately crystallizes into a decision and action."

"St. Paul, at Mars Hill, told the Athenian philosophers of his day that the secret of life was communion with a force which he described as 'In Him we live, and move, and have our being.' I firmly believe that reading the Bible, not only during National Bible Week, but every day of every week, will make us aware of the power for good that lies in the word of God." National Bible Week is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, Inc.

Mrs. Wm. H. Hasebroock

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mel-low-voiced Dinah Shore is back on the television scene after a year's absence in which she sought and failed to find a new way of life.

At the close of the 1963 season, Dinah announced she was quitting after a dozen highly successful years in television. She started with a 15-minute show, did 444 of them, then switched to an hour-long program that lasted for seven seasons.

"I've worked a long time," said the singer, who had started her career in 1931. "There are things you get to do only once in your life, like watching your children grow up. I'm determined not to let those things pass me by because I was too busy working."

She declared she was going to make Palm Springs her home, since it afforded a wholesome atmosphere for the rearing of her children. What she didn't reveal was that she also planned to marry Maurice F. Smith, a Palm Springs contractor. Their wedding May 26, 1963, was a surprise.

The marriage lasted a year. Now Dinah has moved her children back to Beverly Hills and is resuming her television career.

"I needed that year off from television," she explained between rehearsals for Saturday night's NBC telecast. "I had to slow down and find out where I was going. I never stopped singing; I would never do that. I played some dates where all I had to do was sing — that's pure enjoyment for me."

"Television was something else again. The blocking-out of the show never bothered me; it was easy to work out the mechanics. The real headache was in the planning: Trying to figure out what to do with the guest stars, how to keep the show moving, what to say. Most dialogue on variety shows is pure pap. It is a constant struggle to make the talk entertaining."

"Even in an hour show I usually did only three or four songs. So I was doing very little singing, which is what I really like to do."

He won't start a war that he knows will bring about his own destruction."

He said that Krushchev may call the bluff of the U.S. "but that doesn't necessarily mean that we will get into a nuclear war."

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC had a weekly prime-time hour of chamber music; CBS featured something called "Captain Billy's Mississippi Music Hall," and NBC was going with something called "Barney Blake, Police Reporter."

The year was 1948, when television sets were numbered in their Buffalo route.

Johnson told his audiences, which were noisy in their enthusiasm, that "the country needs Robert Kennedy in Washington and New York needs Robert Kennedy in the U.S. Senate."

He said he thought Kennedy's "great ability and talent" should be put to work for New York, the nation and the entire world.

Kennedy, who was accompanied on the tour by his wife, Ethel, spoke at every stop about his "affection and admiration" for Johnson. He introduced the President to a Buffalo gathering as "the great president."

Johnson's speeches were virtually the same as those made in other states, with a few revisions to suit the locale, such as fresh statistics on prosperity in New York.

And, in contrast to Wednesday, when he bellowed his speeches to save his throat, he ad-libbed at length.

The President indicated to reporters that he felt his voice was much better and that he had no infection. It was understood he had a mild case of sniffles.

Tower Talks for Goldwater to Arkansans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., told about 500 persons at a $50-a-plate dinner here Wednesday night that Barry Goldwater is "a slave, not to political expediency but to principle."

"Harry Truman made a Republican out of me," Tower said, "and I am eternally grateful to him for it."

That was the tone of Tower's talk, in which he praised the Republican nominee for president and lashed Democrats as members of the party that is leading the nation "down the road of appeasement, conciliation and maybe ultimate surrender."

Goldwater's road leads elsewhere, he said.

"If we re-elect this administration," Tower said, "they will pursue a course calculated to get us into war."

The election of Goldwater "would make it virtually assured that we would not get into war, because we would not, by our weakness, invite the Communists to attack us," Tower said.

Several Democrats were at the gathering, including Arkansas Supreme Court Justice Jim Johnson, who told the group, "I'm not a Republican, but I'm for Barry Goldwater." He said he supports Democratic candidates everywhere except in the presidential - vice presidential contests.

Earlier, Tower told newsmen Republicans believe there is a strong likelihood that there still are missiles in Cuba aimed at the United States.

"We must maintain absolute military superiority," Tower said. "And we must show a willingness to use it if necessary."

Tower said Soviet Premier Nikita Krushchev "is no fool.

SIDE GLANCES

"Look, Marge—I man the barbecue grill, but stoves are supposed to be womaned!"

the thousands rather than the millions, and the place was the evening schedules of the three major networks.

One of the industry publications, "Television Magazine," currently lists all the program titles that have come and gone — over 1,000 — since 1946. And a scanning of those early shows underlines the high mortality rate of television. Of the 29 programs listed for 1948 (today's prime time network shows total almost 100) only one has survived. "The Ed Sullivan Show."

Imogene Coca has been signed to headline — in Carol Burnett's absence — CBS' "The Entertainers" on Oct. 23. Beatrice Lillie, already scheduled to be a guest star, will play an even more important part in the variety program's Halloween show.

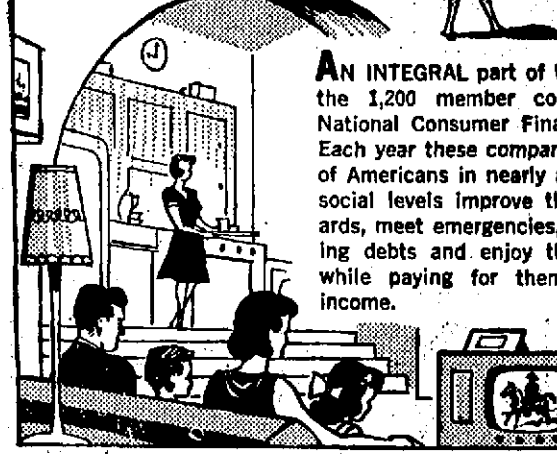

It is expected that, if Miss Burnett's hospital stay recovering from neck and back injuries is protracted, her place will be filled by a succession of guest stars.

Wonderful World

THE U. S. consumer was first exposed to installment buying in 1807. An American woman, who visited France when Napoleon was at the height of his power found an early version of the installment plan there, told a U. S. furniture maker about it when she returned. He decided to try it and the plan was such a success customers began asking other merchants for the same service.

TODAY AMERICANS are using more than $50 billion a year in consumer credit to acquire goods and services many could not afford if they had to pay for everything at once. Credit purchasing is the way of life now and the United States is truly a consumer credit economy.

AN INTEGRAL part of this economy are the 1,200 member companies of the National Consumer Finance Association. Each year these companies help millions of Americans in nearly all economic and social levels improve their living standards, meet emergencies, eliminate pressing debts and enjoy the use of goods while paying for them out of future income.

Will Take Bids on Bank Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Army Engineers announced Thursday that they will take bids Nov. 18 on about three miles of bank stabilization work on the Little Bayou Meto Cutoff in Jefferson County.

The project will cost about $300,000, engineers said. It is located six miles northeast of Grady.

Hearing in Hot Springs Gaming Raid

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A preliminary hearing for the operator of a club raided here Monday night was postponed Wednesday in municipal court until Nov. 18.

W. Jud Tolson, the operator, was docketed for displaying gambling machines and possessing legal liquor for illegal sale.

State Police raided his place, Jud's Steak House, and confiscated three slot machines and 140 bottles of liquor.

Garland County Prosecutor David B. Whittington said he would not file charges against Tolson.

"The municipal court has the power and authority to handle this matter," Whittington said. "The case will be treated as a preliminary hearing and the court will take whatever action is necessary under the law and evidence."

On other fronts of the gambling issue, the Churches United Against Gambling opened a headquarters in Little Rock.

Dr. Ralph A. Phelps Jr., president of CUAG, said backers of Amendment 55, which would legalize casino gambling in Garland County, are pouring out "misinformation, half-truths and outright lies."

Haines Hower, chairman of the publicity committee of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce, which is pushing for passage of the amendment, replied that the charges were not true "and unworthy of a man of his (Phelps') position."
